In the Neutral Zone: February Issue Now Available

Montréal (Québec) - The February 2015 issue of In the Neutral Zone, the newsletter of the Sport Dispute Resolution Centre of Canada (SDRCC), is now available online at <http://www.crdsc-sdrcc.ca/eng/media-newsletters>. In this edition, Julie Duranceau, former employee and now mediator of the SDRCC, recalls the main achievements and the evolution of the organization during its first 10 years of operations. Details on the activities and services of the SDRCC at the Canada 2015 Canada Winter Games in Prince George are also provided. In addition to the profile of an SDRCC arbitrator, the newsletter announces the publication of a new educational resource, a new promising partnership as well as news regarding its roster of mediators and arbitrators.

To better serve the Canadian sport community, the SDRCC welcomes comments and feedback regarding its newsletter and educational materials. This can be done by contacting Cynthia Colas Livernois, Education and Communication Coordinator, at ccolas@crdsc-sdrcc.ca.

About the SDRCC

The SDRCC is a not-for-profit corporation created by federal legislation and funded by Sport Canada. The mission of the SDRCC is to provide the sport community with a national alternative dispute resolution service and strengthen the culture of fairness in Canadian sport by resolving disputes quickly and efficiently and to provide expertise and assistance regarding alternative dispute resolution.
