

Chris has a broad advocacy and advisory practice. In the early stages of his career, Chris was an Assistant Crown Attorney where he was the lead prosecutor in numerous trials. He is a past Fox Scholar at Middle Temple, UK, and he holds a Master of Laws from the London School of Economics & Political Science.

He has extensive experience in trials, arbitrations, negotiations, and investigations. Chris is often called upon by his clients as a trusted advisor for strategic advice and vigorous representation related to crisis situations and litigation matters. He has successfully represented his clients on cases involving injunctions, motions, inquests, and appeals. Chris has appeared before many administrative tribunals (including the Sport Dispute Resolution Centre of Canada), all levels of trial court, Divisional Court, and the Court of Appeal for Ontario.

He is a senior advisor to the Professional Women's Hockey Players Association (PWHPA) helping to deliver on the PWHPA's mission to create a sustainable professional women's hockey league in North America.

He has also undertaken substantial pro bono engagements, including on behalf of Covenant House where he has successfully opposed numerous third-party records applications related to human trafficking cases. In addition, he has represented athletes and acted as an arbitrator in a variety of matters involving the SDRCC. Chris is a past recipient of the Robert E. Deignan Award for Outstanding Pro Bono Service.

Chris regularly appears on local and national TV news broadcasts as a legal analyst, and he has written and spoken on a wide range of topics.

He has been recognized as "Highly Recommended" and a "Next Generation" Lawyer by The Legal 500 Canada.
